Key Projects

Putney High School, Putney

Complete: 2020

Scope: Construction

Architect: Broadway Malyan

Client: Putney High School

Construction package for the landscaped areas of the Putney High School site, replacing the former 1970s science wing. It features a colonnade-shaded southern lawn, improved external walkways, and integration with an existing adventure playground, amphitheatre, all-weather courts, tennis and astro surfaces.

Trumpington Meadows, Cambridge

Complete: 2017

Scope: Concept, Masterplanning

Client: Barratt David Wilson Homes Eastern Counties

Architect: PRP

Trumpington Meadows is an award-winning residential development situated south of Cambridge. Involved in planning application for landscape services for phases 10 and 11. The site emphasises connectivity, encouraging residents to walk or cycle along thoughtfully-designed routes that link to key destinations within and beyond the development.

Thrayle House, Lambeth

Complete: 2016

Scope: Tender, Construction

Client: Vail Properties

Architect: PRP

Thrayle House in Brixton features a modest but thoughtful landscape design aimed at enhancing community integration. Ground-floor public realm includes a welcoming plaza adjacent to Stockwell Skate Park. The upper terraces offer communal gardens designed for social interaction and relaxation, featuring high-quality planting, integrated seating, and flexible spaces for informal gatherings.

Embassy Gardens, Nine Elms

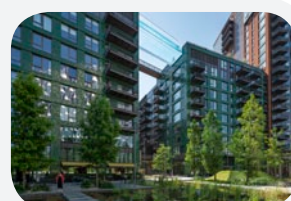

Complete: 2016

Scope: Tender, Construction

Client: EcoWorld - Ballymore

Architect: HAL, FCB, Arup, Reddy

Embassy Gardens is a mixed-use development in Nine Elms with extensive, high-quality, people focused public realm that connects Vauxhall and Battersea, featuring tree-lined promenades, water features, and verdant "ravine" courtyards. Communal podium gardens offer lush retreat spaces for residents. Taking the consented scheme through to tender and construction stages.

Providence Tower, Tower of Hamlets

Complete: 2015

Scope: Tender, Construction

Client: Ballymore

Architect: SOM

The landscape weaves water, planting, and stone in a fluid narrative that enhances connectivity, visual drama, and biodiversity. Attentive resolution of construction details, particularly in the integration of ventilation systems within planter structures and the coordination of a bespoke curved water feature, ensuring both technical functionality and seamless aesthetic continuity across the landscape.

London City Island, Tower of Hamlets

Complete: 2015

Scope: Tender, Construction

Client: EcoWorld - Ballymore

Architect: Glenn Howells Architects

A mixed-use development that features a richly landscaped public realm centred around a 2.4-acre park, riverside promenades, and green roof terraces. The landscape integrates public squares, and pedestrianised routes that connect to the River Lea and a footbridge to Canning Town. Planting, seating, and open spaces support both community life and biodiversity across the island.

Royal Mint Gardens, City of London

Complete: 2014

Scope: Concept, Planning

Client: IJM Land

Architect: Farrells

Royal Mint Gardens in Tower Hill is a residential scheme that sensitively frames its historic and urban context. It features a central piazza and articulated courtyard terraces with cantilever timber seating and Corten-steel planter walls, creating layered outdoor rooms for relaxation and socialising. Involved in Stages 0 to 3 with an approved full planning application.
